A CAPITOL FOURTH
AMERICA'S INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATION

Dear Andrew:

"As the smoke cleared, the image of those "broad stripes and bright stars" inspired a young poet, Francis Scott Key, to compose the words for what would become our national anthem. And so tonight, as we celebrate the 200th birthday of The Star-Spangled Banner, Francis Scott Key's historic words resonate still and remind us that through the power of music, this proud old tune continues to unite us all."

-John Williams, July 4, 2014

We would like to give our heartfelt thank you for being a part of the 34th annual A Capitol Fourth. With your hard work and dedication we celebrated the red, white and blue while commemorating our country's 238th birthday with incredible performances and the greatest fireworks in the USA. This year, we were not only blessed with amazing weather, but once again we are proudly hearing countless reports that this was our best show ever. So thank you for all you did to help make this national tradition a great success.

Enclosed please find the 2014 A Capitol Fourth DVD as a small token of our gratitude. Thank you again for your commitment to the country on one of our most important holidays.

All the Best,

Michael Colbert
